Two Cars Wrecked, Man Hurt

TWO CARS were demolished following an accident at Eighth and Scott Sts. at 10:30 last night.

Cars driven by David R. Singer, 17, of 927 Ehler St., Stroudsburg, who was traveling south on Eighth, and Harold T. Newman, 31, of 1301 Wyoming Ave., Pittston, traveling west on Scott, collided at the crossing.

Slightly injured was John Frankoski, 57, of 19 W. Fourth St., Wyoming, a passenger in the Newman car, who suffered a slight abrasion on the head.

Stroudsburg Police said an investigation of the accident will be continued.

Collision Injures Two In Borough

TWO PERSONS were injured in an accident at the intersection of Fifth and Main Sts. at 8:10 last night, Stroudsburg Police reported.

Police said Gilliam M. King, 22, of 281 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, a student at East Stroudsburg State College, was proceeding east on Main St. with the light when a car driven by Roger W. Engelhart, 30, of Saylorsburg, in the left turn lane on Fifth, went through the light and collided with King's car.

Engelhart, suffering a large cut in the back of his head which required sutures, and his passenger, Mary Frances Fischbach, 19, of 716 Ann St., Stroudsburg, who had multiple bruises of the body and a cut right arm and right ear suffered when she was thrown from the car at the point of impact, were treated at the Monroe County General Hospital and discharged. King was not injured.

Damage to the King auto with a damaged front end, was estimated at $250, while the Engelhart car was estimated at a total loss.

Police said Engelhart would be charged with a traffic light violation.

Arthur Murray Contests Phony, FTC Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur Murray, Inc., which sells dancing lessons to people all over the world, came under federal charges of trickery and deception Wednesday.

The Federal Trade Commission accused the firm and its heads, Arthur and Kathryn Murray, of promoting phony contests through radio, television and newspaper advertisements.

These contests, the FTC said, appeal to "the innocent, unwary and unsuspecting."

Virtually anyone can win the contests, the FTC said, and collect as prizes a purported gift certificate for a number of dancing lessons.

The agency charged that free lessons sometimes are given only if additional courses are purchased, and in many cases the winners spend much of their time allotted to "free lessons" listening to sales pitches for additional instruction.

Gas Station Blast Kills Five People

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — An explosion blew apart a gasoline service station in downtown Auburn Wednesday night and killed three firemen, the station owner and an oil company employee.

Two women, residents of an apartment building next door, were injured and taken to a hospital in this central New York city.

The dead were inside the 30x40-foot, cinderblock building when it disintegrated. Only a large pit filled with debris was visible.

Gasoline Odor

The firemen had been summoned to the station because a gasoline odor had been noticeable.

Firemen said employees of the station had been using gasoline to wash a grease rack.

The blast shattered windows in a four-block area. Every window in the First Universalist church, across the street, and in the three-story apartment building, was broken. Occupants of the apartments were evacuated.

Cinderblocks were tossed 50 to 100 feet into the street. The dead firemen were Lt. Alfred Murphy, John Searing and Anthony Contrera.

The other dead were Walter Ockenfels, who operated the station for the R. J. Connor Oil Co., and John Bell, a Connor employee.

The bodies were recovered.

18 Negroes Ousted From University

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Southern University Wednesday suspended or expelled 18 Negro students, the dean of students said, in the wake of lunch counter sit-downs and a march on the state Capitol.

Dr. Martin L. Harvey announced the disciplinary action at the all-Negro, state-supported university only a few hours after about 1,000 Negro students—chanting "The Lord's Prayer" and singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" staged an orderly rally on the state Capitol steps.

Scatter Negroes With Fire Hose

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Firemen turned powerful streams of water into a crowd of young Negroes Wednesday to calm a demonstration over lunch counter incidents.

Fire hoses scattered the Negroes, all believed to be college students, as officers started freeing more than 250 seized at the height of a gathering on the courthouse square. More than 700 jammed the downtown square at one time.

Calls went out for all available peace officers—city police, sheriff's deputies and state highway patrolmen—in neighboring counties.

Dilworth Fails To Meet With Shortway Backers

HAZLETON — Philadelphia Mayor Richard Dilworth once remarked there would be no sense in building the Keystone Shortway because only bears would be around to use it.

People living along the 27-county, 291-mile route were incensed by the remark at first, but later viewed it with amusement, knowing it was so absurd that it would not be taken seriously. The statement was politically inspired and meant to impress Philadelphians, they felt.

A group of Hazleton Chamber of Commerce members were not impressed, however. Dilworth, here Tuesday night

Ike Believes Soviets Want Military Ban

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower declared Wednesday his belief that the Russians sincerely "do want a degree of disarmament, and they want to stop testing" of nuclear weapons.

"That looks to me to be more or less proved," Eisenhower told his news conference.

The chief executive also said this nation's adherence to a voluntary Anglo-Soviet-American moratorium on small nuclear tests cannot be binding on his successor.

He made it clear that, whatever the length of any moratorium to be negotiated at Geneva, the pact will be binding on the United States only until inauguration day—next Jan. 20—unless it is then reaffirmed by the new president.

Effective Means

But Eisenhower declared his conviction that effective means of outlawing nuclear explosions must be achieved before more nations join the "club" of nuclear powers.

The president radiated confidence and good humor as he elaborated on the decision reached at Camp David, Md., Tuesday by himself and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan—to offer the Soviet Union a voluntary ban on small underground atomic tests if an effective treaty controlling all other explosions is signed.

The Russians have urged a four- or five-year voluntary pact. This country favors a much shorter time, during which efforts would be rushed to develop methods of detecting the small explosions.

Done Open To Nixon

The implication of the President's words was that the question of duration of the voluntary cessation is academic, so far as this country is concerned, beyond his own retirement from office.

Thus he left the door open for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, unopposed for the Republican nomination, to set forth his position on the nuclear test issue during the presidential campaign.

The President would not say whether Nixon helped formulate the U.S. position at Camp David. Nixon sat on the talks.

"I could not possibly answer in particular detail," Eisenhower said in parting the program.

Own Campaign Program

The exchange paved the way for a whole series of political questions. The reply to one of them gave Nixon a free hand—with Eisenhower's blessing—to write his own campaign program.

Nixon would be "absolutely stupid," Eisenhower said, if he limited his campaign to the record and policies of the present administration.

"This world moves," the President said. He added that if he were not bowing out of politics, "certainly I would be looking for new ways and directions in which to carry on what I conceive to be the responsibilities of the federal government."

Therefore, Eisenhower went on, "I completely applaud" Nixon's expressed intention to campaign not only on the Eisenhower record but on an expanded program of his own.

No V. P. Endorsement

However, the President declined to be drawn into an endorsement of any Republican for the vice presidential nomination, as he has declared in favor of Nixon for the presidency.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York would be "acceptable to me" if nominated, the President said—but then, "I think I can name a score of Republicans of real stature that would be acceptable in this office."

Gold Coins Worth $100,000 Located

MOUNT PROSPECT, Ill. (AP) — Gold pieces worth at least $100,000, buried in the backyard of a Chicago investment broker before his death, have been spied up with the aid of a treasure map.

The gold, found in bags buried under two fruit trees on the property of Stanley R. Pierce, was unearthed two weeks ago by representatives of the Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co.

Citizen Army Mobilized

Africa Orders State Of Emergency

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—South Africa's government, beset by demonstrations against its segregation policies, declared a state of emergency Wednesday and alerted its citizen defense force for mobilization.

The orders went out as more than 30,000 Negro demonstrators jamming the streets of Cape Town, the seat of South Africa's Parliament, emphasized the build-up of racial tension. Scattered violence flared in the countryside. With armored cars circling the Parliament building, police with rifles guarding the entrances and street corners and a police helicopter circling overhead, Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd declared the situation was under control.

May Call Army

If 18 regiments of the citizens force now alerted cannot handle any disorders, he said, the regular army will be called in.

The Cape Town Negroes finally dispersed peacefully, but their sheer numbers made profound impressions.

Three million white persons control 10 million Negroes, nearly half a million Indians and more than a million coloreds — mixed bloods — in this nation, rigidly segregated according to racial complexion.

The dramatic events in Parliament came only a few hours after police had rounded up some white liberals and Negro, Indian and colored leaders to ward off what Verwoerd described earlier as "a massive revolt." More than 150 were reported arrested.

They were detained under provisions of the Public Safety Act. Relations between races in this anxious country probably haven't been as bad since the Zulu rebellion of 1879.

Relations Could Worsen

Scattered violence, threats and outright intimidation in Cape province and Johannesburg indicated that relations may get even worse under the emergency regulations to come.

Creek Floods Meadville; Allegheny River Rising

By The Associated Press

FRENCH CREEK began spilling out of its embankments at Meadville Wednesday night, and the Allegheny River continued rising toward flood level at Warren.

Showers and thundershowers added to the load of western Pennsylvania streams and rivers that were running nearly bank full in many spots with melted snow from a spring thaw.

Civil Defense officials sounded a siren at Meadville Wednesday evening to signify that French Creek had climbed above the 57.3-foot flood stage.

The creek continued rising and water spilled into several low-lying streets.

Vernon Houghton, chief river forecaster for the U.S. Weather Bureau in Pittsburgh, informed Meadville authorities he was revising his French Creek forecast of about 57 feet to 60 feet.

Highway Threat

This would flood the residential Fifth Ward. It also might cut off Route 322 leading south to Cochran and possibly shut the Smock Memorial Bridge that carries Route 619 into the city.

Meadville was hit by a disastrous flood last year, but that situation occurred when ice gorges backed up water behind them. There are no gorges in the creek now.

Warren police kept a constant check on the Allegheny, which had climbed to within almost a foot of the 14-foot flood level by Wednesday evening.

Downstream at Oil City and Franklin the Allegheny's level was less critical although the river was still rising and had several feet to go before it would reach flood level.

Roads Closed

Cusawago Creek flooded about 12 miles north of Meadville and covered Route 98 with six inches of water. In southern Erie County, Route 8 was closed between Union City and Waterville after French Creek flooded a small portion of the road.

Two secondary roads were flooded in the same area.

In the southwestern part of the state, the Youghiogheny and Monongahela rivers began receding Wednesday.

In Pittsburgh, the Ohio River, formed by the merger of the Allegheny and the Monongahela, was expected to crest Thursday at about 24 feet, just one foot under flood stage.

In the central part of the state, the main channels of the Juniata and the west branch of the Susquehanna were expected to reach about three-quarters bankful by Thursday. Shallow flooding along small streams in the area was predicted during the day.

His dramatic gesture did not amount to an outright boycott. He seated himself in a row of chairs at one side of the chamber. A delegation spokesman said Fourie was awaiting instructions from his government.

Request Action

Fourie was the opening speaker as the Council began debate on a request by 29 Asian-African nations that it consider the mass shooting of Negroes in South Africa by white police.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, president of the Council for March, declared the agenda adopted without taking a formal vote.

That assured full-scale debate with representatives of the Asian-African group denouncing the shootings and calling for Council action aimed at halting additional violence.

Hotel Guests Get Census Forms Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government will get a head start Thursday night on the 1960 census. Thousands of temporary workers will visit hotels and motels to find out who's away from home.

The once-a-decade head count traditionally begins on April 1. However, the Census Bureau decided on an early kickoff this year in hopes of getting better information about people who are traveling.

During the evening hours, census takers will be stationed at every hotel and motel with 50 or more rooms and which charges at least $1.25 a night.

The growers will receive about $8 a barrel compared to the $12 they probably would have received on the market normally.

The White House, announcing this, estimated the government would pay out about 10 million dollars. Press secretary James C. Hagerty said no payments will be made on berries found to be contaminated.

Macmillan Leaves

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan took off for London in a pouring rain Wednesday night after warning that the West must walk warily in talks with Russia but avoid an overly suspicious attitude.

Creeks Rise From Rain, Melted Snow

FOUR-TENTHS of an inch of rain fell on the Poconos yesterday. There was no flood threat.

Streams rose during the day as the rain washed off much that remained of earlier snow storms, but Monroe County Civil Defense officials said there was no problem.

The Broadheads Creek showed a rise of 1.09 feet in two hours yesterday afternoon, due primarily to melting snow. At 7 p.m., Marshall Reese, county CD director, reported that it had leveled off.

The office of the rivermaster at Milford said there was no flood threat on the Delaware River. A spokesman said there was little rain falling there at the time.

The rivermaster's office said that the stream's action would depend on upstream conditions, but "there is no threat at the moment."

Fog was reported in higher areas and police warned motorists to drive with extreme caution.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Allentown - Bethlehem - Easton Airport predicted the rain would end this morning. The forecast for the remainder of the day is mostly cloudy, windy and cooler.

Low injuries were reported. The Army flew six helicopters to Nebraska to team up with three National Guard helicopters that have been performing patrol and rescue duty. Army amphibious ducks were used to bring out marooned families.

Civil defense officials advised people who need help to place white sheets in yards or on rooftops.

Hundreds of families fled from their dwellings in North Bend, Fremont, Valley and Waterloo, Neb., to get away from the icy waters of the Platte and Elkhorn rivers.

Daily Lenten Meditation

Isaiah 1:10-20 or John 14:15-21

Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

(Isaiah 1:18)

Isaiah comes nearer approaching the Gospel standard of righteousness than any of the other Old Testament prophets. So true is this that he is frequently referred to as the Gospel Prophet.

There is a remarkable similarity in method of approach, as well as content, in the above text and many of the sayings of Jesus. In both instances religion is assumed to be most reasonable. If you can get men to stop long enough really to think through the problems of life, they will discover, as all true followers of the Lord Jesus Christ have discovered, that a real religious experience is the most satisfying thing in all the world.

The difficulty with so many professed Christians is that they fail to enter deeply enough into the experience of religion to test its value. Let us consecrate our lives wholly to the Lord Jesus Christ and daily seek the guidance of the Holy Spirit. This way leads to victorious living.

Prayer: Heavenly Father, may men everywhere realize the folly of placing their reliance upon material things and vision a world in which spiritual values are given their proper place. May Thy will be done and Thy kingdom come. For Jesus' sake and in His blessed name. Amen.

Thought For The Day — Sin produces indelible stains which the sacrificial blood of Jesus alone can remove.

Milwaukee Flood Worst In 40 Years

By The Associated Press

FLOOD danger and damage spread rapidly Wednesday while the number of homeless mounted into the thousands.

Heavy rains beat down in the eastern half of the country and poured into streams as far east as New York State.

The Red Cross estimated 4,000 persons have been forced out of their homes in Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas and Missouri. High water trouble reached into areas in other states.

Six deaths were attributed to floods.

Record Rainfall

The flooding in Milwaukee was described as the worst in 40 years after a record 2.33 inches of rain.

Every creek and river in the Milwaukee area overflowed. Walls collapsed in some basements, and thousands of others were filled with water to first floor levels.

U.S. 41—the main route to Chicago — was closed south of the boundary between Milwaukee and Racine counties. Two big Milwaukee industries, the Falk Corp. and the Milwaukee Road Shops, were compelled to stop operations by flood waters from the Menomonee River.

The Continental Air Command headquarters in New York announced that it had alerted the Air Force Reserve Troop Carrier Fleet for possible disaster duty in the Midwest.

Three persons died in floods in Missouri, two in Nebraska, and one in Illinois.

Tornadoes Reported

A series of tornadoes ripped down in the central and southern sections of the country in a day of wild weather. No deaths and few injuries were reported.

The Army flew six helicopters to Nebraska to team up with three National Guard helicopters that have been performing patrol and rescue duty. Army amphibious ducks were used to bring out marooned families.

Civil defense officials advised people who need help to place white sheets in yards or on rooftops.

Hundreds of families fled from their dwellings in North Bend, Fremont, Valley and Waterloo, Neb., to get away from the icy waters of the Platte and Elkhorn rivers.

City Evacuated

A large section of Fremont, a city of 20,000, was evacuated. But at mid-afternoon the city engineer announced the crisis had passed there.

Half the 1,200 residents pulled out of Valley, a town just west of Omaha.

National Guardsmen strove to reinforce a dike on the big Blue River in Beatrice, Neb.

Ice Jam Blasted

An Air Force demolition team blasted loose a mile-long ice jam in the big Sioux River and ended a flood threat in West Sioux City.

But the Floyd River, which had routed 2,200 persons in East Sioux City, Iowa, began dropping early in the day.

Many streams were out of their banks in northwestern and northeastern Missouri. The Missouri River spilled over from Kansas City to Boonville, but no cities or towns were menaced.

Merchants moved supplies from low-level shelves and from basements in the downtown area of Darlington, Wis., where the Pecatonica River overflowed.

Only one main road was open between Waukesha and Milwaukee, Wis. The Milwaukee River went out of its bed in Ozaukee County north of Milwaukee. Some residents left their houses. Highways were closed and many farm fields were inundated.

Gov. William G. Stratton ordered the Illinois National Guard, State Police, public health workers and civil defense units to be ready for flood relief duty if needed.

Waters from the Pecatonica River entered Freeport, Ill. Sandbag barricades were built around factories in the shoe area.

Commune Revived

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China disclosed Wednesday it has revived the city commune—suspended in 1953 in the face of stiff urban resistance—in the drive to turn a peasant nation into an industrial giant.

TWO

$15 Million-Plus Spent On Monroe Roads Since '55

Record Harrisburg Bureau

HARRISBURG—More than $15 million has been spent on state highways in Monroe County during the past five years, the Record Harrisburg Bureau learned today in a check with the State Department of Highways.

This figure—actually $15,345,283.05—includes construction and reconstruction work performed by either departmental employees or contractors, resurfacing of existing roads within the county, and maintenance work on highways in the county including snow removal, chipping, oiling, weed cutting, patching and similar maintenance chores.

Biggest year on the highway expenditure front in Monroe County was last year, according to department figures. Last year expenditures totaled $6,176,880.65. Expenditures in other years in the county were as follows: 1955—$2,213,925.94; 1956—$2,458,051.78; 1957—$2,272,614.41, and 1958—$2,221,810.27.

1959 Report

Last year construction and reconstruction work in the county involved expenditure of $5,440,856.95; resurfacing work, $110,329.95, and maintenance, including snow removal and surface treatment, $625,693.75.

As a point of comparison, the preceding year showed construction and reconstruction work in the county at $1,554,346.53; resurfacing—$79,385.27, and maintenance—$588,078.47.

The five-year $15,345,283.05 expenditure figure for the county incidentally does not include direct semi-annual payments to communities within the county under terms of Act. 655, the "Home Rule Act," which covers state funds to boroughs and townships for their own road work. In the past five years, this has totaled $1,118,390.89, the department said.

Owner Of Area Resort Dies At 71

MRS. JEAN Kathleen Mahoney, 71, of Swiftwater, owner and operator of the Silver Gray Inn, died yesterday at 6 a.m. in the home of a friend in Dayton, N. J.

She was born in Brooklyn, New York and was the daughter of the late Charles and Elizabeth Somers.

Mrs. Mahoney had resided in Monroe County for the past 25 years. Prior to moving into this area she made her home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

She was of the Methodist faith. Mrs. Mahoney is survived by one step-son, Allen Mahoney, New York City, and one step-daughter, Miss Elizabeth Mahoney, also of New York City. Her husband, William, died in 1955.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Daniel G. Warner Funeral Home with Rev. William F. Wunder officiating.

Interment will be in the Stroudsburg Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday after 7 p.m.

Caterpillar Less Optimistic

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Caterpillar Tractor Co. is less optimistic about 1960 than it was a few months ago, President H. S. Eberhard told the annual meeting.

Marketing of extensive new products, operation of new plants and lingering effects of the steel strike tended to reduce first quarter earnings, he said. He added, however, that Caterpillar expected this year's first quarter to show some improvement over the similar 1959 quarter.

The program is sponsored jointly by the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society, Monroe County Medical Society and State Dept. of Health.

Church Supports South Sitdown

NEW YORK (AP)—The Episcopal Church Wednesday voiced general support of the student sit-in movement in the South, and declared that Christian doctrine supports civil disobedience in certain circumstances.

"Certain laws so degrade the individual that they threaten the dignity of the law itself," the Church said in an advisory report.

"The Church in its basic teaching insists upon the dignity of all men before God," the report said.

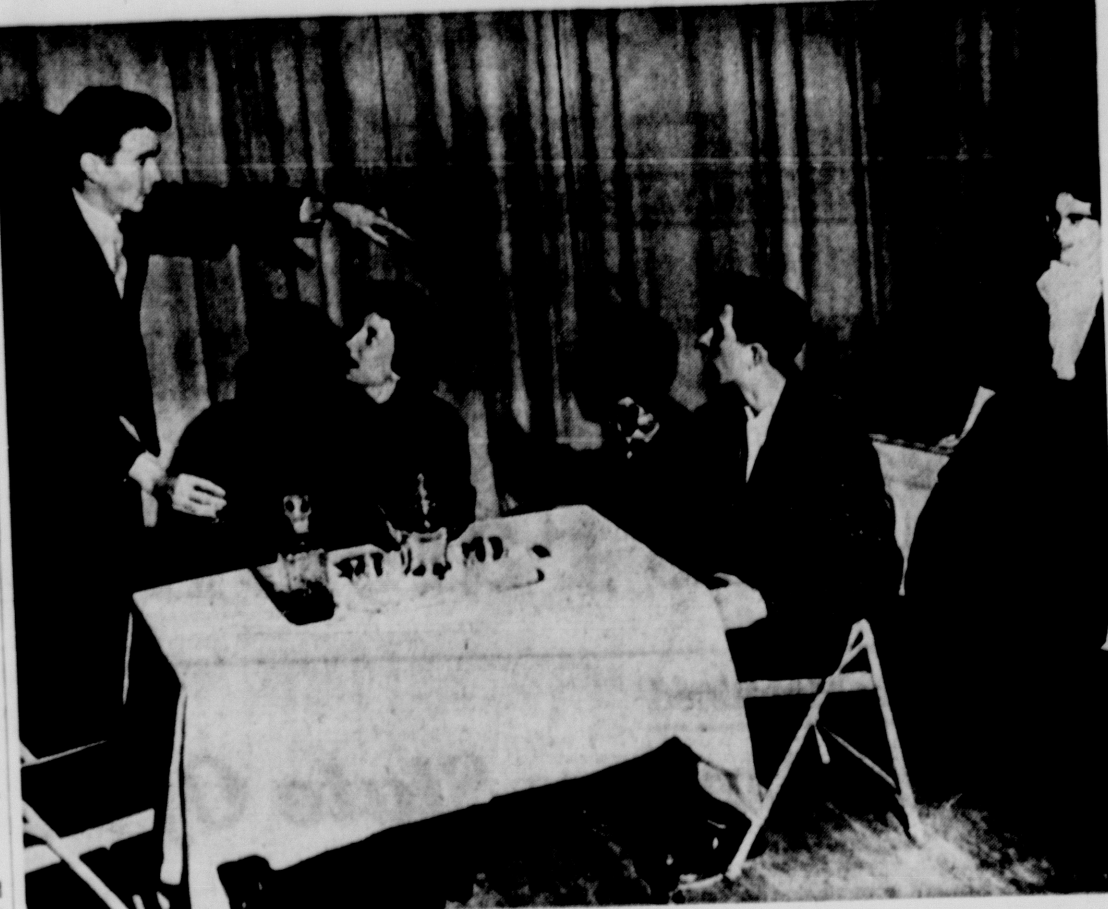

"It is therefore not surprising that Christians are in the forefront of the demonstrations, and that this 'passive resistance' movement has definite relationship to the churches both in teaching and leadership."

The detailed analysis of the current sit-in protests was prepared by staff specialists of the Church's National Council, and issued for guidance of its three million members.

"At the present time, our oneness in Christ will not tolerate a repudiation by white Christians of the legitimate and heartfelt assertion by Negro churchmen that their impatient plea for inherent rights be heard," it said.

CONGRESSMEN?

Our representation in Congress for the next ten years will be based on the 1960 U.S. Census count this April.

The amazing growth and shift of the U.S. population since our last Census is expected to produce many changes in the makeup of the House of Representatives.

Some states will gain Representatives, some states will lose and some states, of course, will remain unchanged.

It is important that you be counted in the Census. It will help our state get its fair share of Representatives.

Your advance questionnaire will come by mail. Fill it out at your convenience and have it ready when the census taker comes early in April.

Dr. Viglione Invited To White House

DR. JOSEPH P. Viglione, 811 Scott St., Stroudsburg general practitioner, has received an invitation from the White House to attend the meeting of the Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, to be held May 5 and 6 in Washington.

Dr. Viglione said the objectives of the conference, as laid out by the White House information bulletin, are 1.—To focus national and international attention on the importance of the rehabilitation and employment of our handicapped workers, and 2.—To provide an opportunity for volunteers and professionals interested in employment of the handicapped, to meet and exchange ideas, experiences and points of view in the overall program of promoting greater employment opportunities for the handicapped.

Through Committees

Invitations were extended through State governors' committees, national and state manufacturers assns., chambers of commerce, AFL-CIO organizations for the handicapped, professional organizations and State and Federal agencies.

President Eisenhower will address the opening morning session of the conference Thursday, May 5, the program states.

Pair Convicted; Die By Hanging

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP)—Ex-convicts Richard Eugene Hickock, 28, and Perry Edward Smith, 31, were convicted yesterday of first degree murder in the slaying last November of four members of the Herbert W. Clutter family. The jury sentenced them to die by hanging.

The jury deliberated less than two hours.

Hickock and Smith were convicted of using a knife and shotgun last Nov. 15 in the killing of Mr. and Mrs. Clutter, a daughter, Nancy, 16; and a son, Kenyon, 15.

The pair displayed no emotion at the verdict.

School Head Ordered To Repay State

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Hazle Twp. school superintendent was ordered Wednesday to reimburse the state for insurance he sold his school district.

Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alperin issued the order at a two-hour meeting with the school officials, Luzerne County Dist. Atty. Stephen Teller, and Richard Eisenhour, counsel for the auditor general's department.

Miss Alperin advised the school officials the $126,568 state subsidy due their district will continue to be withheld until mismanagement alleged by Auditor Gen. Charles C. Smith earlier this month is resolved.

Smith claimed Hazle Twp. school officials mishandled state funds.

He also reported Superintendent Joseph D. Gallagher, an insurance man, improperly sold $3,777 insurance on school buildings for the school year 1958-59. This will have to be repaid the state, Miss Alperin stated.

Also Upheld
She also upheld Smith's contention that two school directors were not entitled to separate automobile mileage for a trip to a Florida school meeting. The directors, Victor Gavinski and John Bartkovich, went in Gallagher's automobile but turned in for a total of $409 in expense money, Smith claimed. She asked the school officials to appear at a meeting April 12 for a further discussion of the situation and with a written answer to Smith's charges.

Victor Wright, deputy attorney general, conducted the investigation of the auditor general's report.

Teller would not comment when asked by newsmen after the meeting whether he planned any prosecutions.

Menace On Highways

A good job is done in Pennsylvania in the matter of periodically inspecting automobiles. The operating condition of motor vehicles has been improved since this practice has been in vogue.

But we still have the problem of one-eyed cars.

The semi-annual inspection is particularly—and properly—rigid as to the condition of an automobile's headlights. Yet any night of the week you can drive on the open roads and pass half a dozen cars operating with a single headlamp. This is always dangerous.

It puts a motorist approaching such a car under the handicap of guessing quickly whether the right or left lamp is out. You never can breathe quite easy until you've passed the one-eyed.

A motorist whose car has a disabled headlight should take to the nearest gas station for immediate repairs. There should be no delay in this.

Price Controls Don't Work

Some people — and some politicians, too—seem to cling to the opinion that the price problem can easily be solved. All you have to do, so they indicate, is pass a law.

Every year since the Korean war price control legislation has cropped up in Congress in various guises. It's safe to assume the same thing will happen in the current and succeeding Congresses.

There's just one thing wrong with price control by legal fiat. It has never worked. It creates more problems than those it is designed to solve. It deals with the symptoms of inflation, not with the disease itself.

Our experience with price and related controls following World War II indicates the truth of these statements. The normal processes of production and retail distribution were disrupted. Shortages developed, black markets flourished—at the expense of honest merchants and the majority of consumers.

That's exactly what most likely will happen again if we attempt to do anything constructive about price inflation with a piece of legislation.

Reports From Congress

Profiles Of Candidates

By Congressional Quarterly Washington — Where does a Presidential candidate come from? What is his age, his previous experience? How wealthy is he? What's his religion?

These questions, pertinent or not, may be decisive in helping voters to make up their minds in November. Where he stands on the issues and how he might handle them may be more to the point, but the personal questions have always been very influential.

Youth, wealth, region, Congressional background—these are some of the elements which already have entered into the 1960 Presidential sweepstakes.

To provide historical perspective, Congressional Quarterly examined the personal factors of every candidate for President or Vice President since Washington ran in 1788. The details for each election appear in a special CQ report, "Presidential Candidates, 1788 to 1956."

Here are the highlights:

Age—The youngest President at inauguration was Theodore Roosevelt—42 years, 10 months. The oldest: William Henry Harrison—68 years, 23 days. The oldest President when he left office was Andrew Jackson, who was 69 years and 354 days old. President Eisenhower will break this record when he leaves office Jan. 20, 1961 at the age of 70 years, 96 days.

Inside Washington

Mail Brings Surprises

Washington — In these days of patriotic organizations, business and labor groups, and innumerable clubs and factions, Congress has grown wary of considering its mail as any criterion of what the country is thinking about. Yet, it is impossible for senators and representatives to completely disregard the flow of letters into their offices.

A check on Capitol Hill mail shows some surprising reactions from the public. The defense status of the country, much debated in Washington, has evoked virtually no mail from the home folk. Neither has the filibuster over civil rights legislation.

What seems to concern the constituents most is a bill now before the House of Representatives to provide medical care to the aged who are receiving Social Security payments. Another matter of principal concern is a pay raise for postal workers.

It is apparent that the postal workers and the old folk are writing their congressmen in great numbers in an effort to persuade them of the necessity for voting for the two pieces of legislation.

Curiously, the most mail being received by the executive department is flowing in to the Defense department. It relates to the Air Force manual, recently withdrawn, which alleged that Communist influences had infiltrated the Protestant church.

Most mail on this subject tended to believe the charge and a lot of it demanded an investigation by some impartial tribunal to determine its truth or falsity.

Try and Stop Me—by Bennet Cerf

Senators from rival states have often enlivened the goings-on in Washington by their verbal exchanges. A senator from Massachusetts one day took a poke at neighboring Vermont. "They tell me," he declared, "that no man in Vermont is allowed to vote unless he has made $200 trading with people in Massachusetts." Senator Jonathan Proctor of Vermont jumped to his feet and added gleefully, "Yes, my respected colleague—and we all vote!"

Continental Divide

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Return Of The Ten

The Hollywood Ten are a noisy, recalcitrant group of motion picture writers, etc., who were called to Washington to testify before the House Committee on un-American Activities in October, 1947.

They flew into Washington with an enormous display of Hollywood press agency. Actually there were more than 10, but the group went by that name.

A distinction must be made between the Hollywood Ten, who were Communists, and the Committee for the First Amendment which included many who were not Communists.

John Howard Lawson, the Communist commissar, in Hollywood was responsible for the organization of both groups.

The Hollywood Ten were: Adrian Scott, Edward Dmytryk, Lester Cole, Ring Lardner, Jr., Dalton Trumbo, John Howard Lawson, Albert Maltz, Alvah Bessie, Samuel Ornitz and Herbert Biberman. They were contemptuous of Congress and by a vote of 346 to 17, the House of Representatives held them.

On November 24, 1947, the organized motion picture industry, the Motion Picture Association of America, the Association of Motion Picture Producers, and the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers met at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York to deal with the problem that this industry, which depends upon public good-will, was harboring enemies of this country. The gist of their resolution was:

"We will forthwith discharge or suspend without compensation those in our employ and we will not re-employ any of the ten until such time as he is acquitted or has purged himself of contempt and declares under oath that he is not a Communist."

"On the broader issue of alleged subversive and disloyal elements in Hollywood, our members are likewise prepared to take positive action. We will not knowingly employ a Communist or a member of any party or group which advocates the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods."

Some companies lived up to this resolution rigidly and at considerable sacrifice. Others were not so enthusiastic. But it was a period of intense anti-Communism and popular opinion was in support of getting rid of Reds. Even such a figure as Charlie Chaplin was caught in this wave of patriotism.

Quick, Watson, the X-Ray machine.

That's about the theme used around Monroe County General Hospital these days as "Private Eye" Robert Westbrook sends his high-powered looker-into action.

Westbrook, X-ray technician at the area medical and surgical center, is fond of birds. Many times he looks out of the room where his pet apparatus is confined and gazes kindly upon the little ones which fly around the outside of the hospital.

There is a method to the madness of Westbrook's love of the beaked ones. He has a bird feeder and likes to see the non-jet propelled beings get their share of food for the day.

Birds gather by the hundreds daily about their philanthropic feeder much to the liking of Westbrook and those confined who are able to view the day's proceedings.

The other day one of the Westbrook book turned up as a Grosbeak dug in to get his fill of shelled sunflower seeds.

Westbrook grabbed his trusty X-Ray and set its sights on the bird. The result—a positive of the seeds in the Gros' stomach.

Now we don't know whether brother Westbrook went any further with his "down under" preview. But one thing is for sure he knows that the Grosbeak is getting his "fill" of seeds and that the beaked one likes his handout.

Westbrook, who spends $200 annually keeping the stomachs of the "passers-by" happy, is an ornithologist of top rating.

Incidentally, he is a first class X-ray technician too.

Should the press be criticized?

Of course! The free press, on the whole, has been a worthy guardian of our democratic heritage. Those who guard a priceless treasure must be willing to have their credentials examined. Having a press card is an immense privilege, but it does not make a newspaperman immune from his obligations as a citizen.

How dangerous is Dictator Castro?

A tyrant anywhere represents a threat to liberty everywhere. Hitler began by burning books and later made an inferno of cities. The economic ties between Russia and Cuba will inevitably be followed by a military alliance. If we refuse to face the facts of Communist infiltration, then we will be compelled to face Communist guns.

Does a rivalry exist between television and newspapers?

Only a fool would deny it—and a bigger fool would deplore it. Competition is the basis of free enterprise. There is rivalry between television and newspapers—and there is competition between newspapers. What's wrong with that? The great milestones of demo-

Radar Advances Help Weatherman

Washington—Just prior to World War II the first successful operation of radar—over a distance of eight miles—created excitement and rejoicing in the government. Now, 21 years later, it is being adapted to uses never dreamed of by the military men who put it together.

One new application is a refined radar gadget that permits the weatherman to "see" and keep track of a storm as it approaches. Washington has one of two such installations in the United States. It cost $200,000, and is considered cheap for a front-row seat in the heavens.

During one recent severe snowstorm, the Washington weatherman, sitting at the screen of his radar set, "saw" the storm when it was more than 150 miles away, over Richmond, Va. He actually saw the snow begin to fall over that city before it reached the ground and the residents were aware of it. From that point on, the storm was watched closely, permitting completely accurate forecasting almost to the minute of when it would reach Washington.

Air and highway traffic could be accurately controlled and warned. Necessary snow-removal and other preparations could be made. The savings in dollars was real and impressive, but the savings in accidents and injuries, which cannot be measured, were immense.

The device works just as well for rain as for snow. In fact it is so sensitive that it can distinguish between the two, thus giving information for pilots on how high to fly to avoid ice forming on their plane's wings.

Miami also has one of these radar sets and it's hoped to prove invaluable in the tracking of hurricanes.

The Allen-Scott Report

Kennedy Seeks Two Prizes

Wisconsin Victory Could Swing N. Y. Leaders For Kennedy; 500 First Ballot Votes Claimed

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington—Senator John Kennedy is now reaching for two key prizes in next week's crucial Wisconsin primary.

A decisive victory there that he can use to further stoke his handwagon drive for the Democratic presidential nomination and a public avowal for him by top New York leaders.

Congressman Charles Buckley powerful Bronx leader and Daniel O'Connell, equally potent Albany leader already have privately informed Kennedy they are for him and are ready to announce that following next Tuesday's eventful showdown in Wisconsin.

In addition, other New York leaders are credited as "leaning that way."

Foremost among those listed are State Chairman Michael Prendergast and Joseph Sharkey, Kings County leader.

In their discussions with Kennedy, Buckley and O'Connell offered to declare for him before the Wisconsin ballot. But he urged them to hold off, on the ground their statements would be more helpful in the tough primaries he faces in May—in Oregon, West Virginia and Maryland, against Senators Humphrey and Wayne Morse.

Buckley and O'Connell also told Kennedy they figure their backing will give him 75 first-ballot votes of New York's 114 votes at the Los Angeles convention.

Another important factor stressed by the two New York leaders was the possible effect their declaration for Kennedy may have on National Committee Chairman Carmine DeSapio.

The Tammany boss is carefully staying neutral in the presidential scramble, and has been urging the other New York leaders to do that. But with Buckley, O'Connell and possibly other county chiefs lining up with Kennedy, that could importantly influence DeSapio's attitude.

Even with the Wisconsin primary still a week away, Kennedy lieutenants already are claiming more than 500 first-ballot convention votes. This backstage estimate is based on the following state-by-state compilation, which is being circulated among party leaders throughout the country:

Did you read Harry Truman's bigoted outburst?

Yes. And it doesn't surprise me. Truman lost me years ago—after making a similar unfortunate remark privately. Incidentally, as a consequence of our opposition to Truman, many alleged liberals sought to "lynch" this reporter.

Have you been reading the speeches of White House hopefuls?

They follow a familiar pattern. Every campaigning candidate tells you that the fate of the nation depends on his party's victory—when both parties know that their fate depends on democracy's survival. And democracy's survival depends on 180 million Americans. Politics is basically a quest for power. Those engaged in striving for public office are generally driven by expediency. Presidential aspirants discuss plans for an ultimate millennial in domestic and international society. The fact is, however, that elections do not solve problems. They merely change the men who must face them.

Do you have a Presidential favorite?

My mind is open on the subject. I base my decision on principles and performance rather than party and politics.

How about the economic outlook?

The most important economic news of the year is the fact that inflation has been controlled. During the next decade, a young man will have a thousand opportunities for every one which existed in the past ten years. The new, complex civilization is pleading for genius to improve it and for millions of skilled people to run it.

What are the attributes of a good newspaperman?

He should be able to distinguish the real from the phony. He should be competent without being conceited, cautious without being timid and skeptical without being cynical. A free newspaperman's primary function is to communicate the truth. And his sole obligation is to the nation's general welfare.

Why did you start the fight with Jack Paar?

Why did Pearl Harbor attack Japan? Why did Poland attack Hitler's armies? Why did Hungary attack Russia? Why did San Francisco attack the earthquake? Actually, the ruckus was kicked up originally when Paar allowed his program to be used as a platform for wild accusations against this reporter. As a result, he was compelled to make an abrupt retraction. The to-doodle was revived after his sappy exile when he blamed this column for the "peculiar" Florida real estate deal—instead of the Miami Herald, whose scoop it was. True, it was strictly a Miami Herald localized story. We merely made it public via syndication.

Maryland's Governor J. Millard Tawes is firmly resisting powerful pressure to declare for Senator Kennedy. Tawes strongly favors Senator Lyndon Johnson, and is standing pat on that despite efforts of other Maryland leaders to swing him to Kennedy, who is seeking the state's delegation in the May 17 primary against Senator Wayne Morse . . . Washington friends of the late Senator Richard Neuberger are organizing lunches and dinners to raise campaign funds for his wife, who has announced for his seat. Every Democratic liberal in the Senate, with the exception of Morse, has offered to go to Oregon and campaign for her. Former President Truman also has sent her the word . . . House Democratic leader John McCormack, Mass., is credited by insiders with playing an important role in convincing Representative Charles Buckley, powerful Bronx leader, to back Senator Kennedy. Buckley and McCormack have been close friends for years in the House.

Police Drive On Loose Dogs

STROUDSBURG POLICE yesterday announced an intensified campaign against dogs running loose in the borough.

Police Chief John B. Tretheway reminded dog owners that both a borough ordinance and state law prohibits the animals running loose.

Tretheway said current plans are to use the borough ordinance for enforcement. If it is indicated that residents are still not cooperating, the state law, which provides stiffer penalties for violators, may be invoked.

Under Direct Control

Tretheway stressed that dogs must be under the direct control of their owners at all times.

The borough ordinance provides for police seizure of dogs running at large and their detention in a place designated by borough council as a pound.

The dog may be redeemed by the owner upon payment of charges incurred by such detention. In addition, the owner may be fined not more than $5 and costs and in default of such fine may be imprisoned for five days.

State Law

State law provides that police may kill unlicensed dogs which are running at large.

Licensed dogs may be seized and redeemed upon payment of costs as under the borough ordinance. State law provides for a fine of between $5 and $100 for violations or imprisonment for 30 days or both.

The program "America Deserves to Know," is sponsored by Billy James Hargis, evangelist and founder of Christian Crusade.

No Injuries In 2-Car Accident

PEN ARGYL — No one was injured in a two-car crash that resulted from an argument over a prior accident last night on Route 90 in Plainfield Township.

According to Chief Donald R. Rohn of Plainfield Township police, cars driven by Robert Frantz, 19, of 210 S. Main St., Nazareth, and Frank Digiacamo, 39, of 333 Falcone Ave., Roseto, locked bumpers.

Rohn said an argument followed and Digiacamo returned to his car and started on the highway with Frantz in pursuit at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

Attempted Turn

As Digiacamo attempted to make a right turn onto the Pen Argyl road, Rohn continued, Frantz car struck the rear of his vehicle, causing Digiacamo's vehicle to turn over five or six times.

Neither of the drivers nor Larry Bruch, 16, Easton, RD 2, a passenger in the Frantz car, was injured.

Rohn said charges against the drivers will be filed after he completes his investigation.

Living Costs Rise In Monroe County Despite Decrease Across State

Record Harrisburg Bureau HARRISBURG — Contrary to the statewide trend, living costs in the Monroe County area rose during the past quarter, records of the State Department of Labor and Industry indicated yesterday in contrast to the statewide average which showed a decline of 0.2 percent.

Commenting on the general statewide dip, Secretary William L. Batt, Jr., said "lower prices for apparel in the larger cities and reduced food prices" were the factors contributing to the decline in the All Items Index. Food prices in the Monroe County area — as everywhere in the state — showed a dip of 0.7 percent. However increases in other basic cost-of-living items offset the food cost decline.

Following are some sample food items for the area indicating average cost during the past quarter, with cost during the preceding quarter noted in parentheses:

Round steak, $1.15 per pound ($1.14); hamburger, 61¢ per pound (61¢); veal cutlets, $1.64 per pound ($1.65); pork chops, 88¢ per

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government says its whalers in the antarctic were the only ones to harpoon their quota of blue whales in the 1960 season, taking 5,216 as compared with 5,037 last year.

ICC Examiner Recommends Merger Of DL&W-Erie

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner Monday recommended approval of a proposed merger of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and the Erie Railroads.

The examiner, Hyman J. Blond, said the consolidation proposed by the companies early last year "would enhance the adequacy of services available to the public."

The proposed combine, to be known as the Erie-Lackawanna System, with headquarters at Cleveland, would throw together 2,961 miles of important trackage in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Cut Freight Service

(Railroad sources said previously the merger's principal effect on the East Stroudsburg area would be a reduction of freight service through a shift of some trains to the Erie main-line which has better grade features. It would result in a possible increase in the passenger service through a shift of Erie trains to the DL&W tracks.

(Consolidation of the two carriers would result in the loss of some 400 jobs in the Scranton region within five years through consolidation of some operations and shift of the division headquarters to Hornell, N.Y.

However, the Keyser Valley car shop would become a main repair point for freight equipment and employ more men than at present).

Examiner Blond, in recommending approval of the application, said:

"The traffic affected by competition between the applicants is substantial; the railroads involved are weak carriers financially; and the existing competition by other railroads and other forms of transportation would continue as strong, or stronger, than at present."

"Considering all the circumstances, the change in the competitive situation between Erie and Lackawanna would reflect to the benefit of the general public, and its elimination would have no adverse effect upon adequate transportation service."

His recommendation now goes before the full commission and a final ruling might not be forthcoming for at least four months. ICC approval would mean the merger could begin in 30 to 45 days.

Lackawanna President Perry M. Shoemaker said he was "very happy" about the recommendation and said continued studies of the merger plan now show savings would be "far in excess of the $13,000,000 originally estimated."

Dear Abby

Think Twice, Mother

Dear Abby: My husband and I don't get along at all. We have a 3-year-old child and I am expecting another. I want to divorce my husband but I couldn't manage on what he could pay me weekly. When the new baby comes, we'll have more expenses and the same income.

Do you think giving up my baby as soon as it's born would be so horrible? I am young yet and want a better life for my son and myself. I could manage with one child but not with two.

If I decide to give up my baby, do I need my husband's consent? Please help me, Abby. I feel so lost and mixed up. I am 20 years old.

LOST AND MIXED UP
Dear Abby: A lawyer can tell you whether you need your husband's consent to give up your baby. But your conscience should tell you that you have a moral obligation to consider the father's wishes. If you feel "lost and mixed up," I urge you to talk to your clergyman, or get in touch with your Family Service Association. You need to "find" yourself and straighten out your thinking before you make a decision as lasting and important as this one.

Dear Abby: Your answer to "ONLY A WIFE" was ridiculous. The lady said her husband never attended the funeral of his aunt or uncle, but he drove half-way across the country to bury his dog. She asked you if you thought her husband was "crazy" and you replied, "He's dog-gone normal!"

How can anyone in his right mind think more of a dog than he does of his kin? If your answer expresses your true feelings, then maybe you and that nut ought to get together. You have a lot in common.

LOVER OF MANKIND

Dear Abby: Bless you for sticking up for the man who loved his dog enough to drive a thousand miles to lay him to rest. I know how he felt because I loved my dog like that. He was only a mongrel, but I raised him from a pup, and he gave me more unselfish affection than most people I knew. When I was a boy he'd comfort me by letting me cry my troubles into his fur.

He proved his devotion to me when a burglar came into my store. My beloved dog was killed when he intercepted the bullet that was meant to kill me. I would have walked from Oregon to Arkansas to pay my dog last respects. No one can realize what a dog means to a man unless he has loved one, too! Abby, I'll bet you have a dog, haven't you?

DOG LOVER

Dear Dog Lover: You guessed it!

Confidential to A. W. K.: Sorry the letter signed Faithful Wife shocked you. I have since been informed that the dog means to a man unless he has loved one, too! Abby, I'll bet you have a dog, haven't you?

"What's Your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

20 County Handicapped Placed In Positions In 1959

TWENTY Monroe County residents with physical handicaps were placed in jobs during 1959 after receiving vocational and physical retraining services, it was announced yesterday.

Tom E. Williams, administrator of the State Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation's Wilkes-Barre District, said five persons from Pike County and 10 from Wayne County were also included in the program. Throughout the state 5,878 handicapped persons were rehabilitated into employment. Pinpointing the wide selection of jobs in which the handicapped were placed, Williams said that 12 percent of the entire group were placed in skilled occupations, such as watchmakers, jewelers and automobile mechanics; 14 percent clerical occupations including stenography, secretaries, bookkeeping and general office help; 15 percent in semi-skilled jobs; 20 percent in service occupations; six percent in unskilled jobs; or semi-professional occupations such as teachers, engineers, accountants, and draftsmen, and the remaining 22 percent in managerial, sales, agricultural, or family workers.

Earnings Rise
When these individuals applied for vocational rehabilitation with the Bureau, their weekly earnings were estimated at $6.50 per person, Williams said. After rehabilitation their income averaged $48.17 a week per person. This represents an increase of more than 640 percent over the earnings of the group before they received vocational rehabilitation.

West Rejects Soviet Approach

GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers rejected yesterday the Soviet approach to nuclear disarmament. They maintained the Kremlin's program was based on emotional slogans suitable for mass meetings but lacking any scientific reality.

French disarmament expert Jules Moch told the 10-nation disarmament conference that vague promises to surrender possession of nuclear weapons are meaningless unless accompanied by rigid controls. In the present state of the world's scientific knowledge, Moch said, it is impossible to tell how many atomic and hydrogen bombs are held in stock by the world's nuclear powers even with controls. Some stocks could always be hidden.

Depot Will Hire 45 Employees

TOBYHANNA — Forty-five temporary employees will be hired at the Tobyhanna Signal Depot, it was announced today.

The hiring will be done from the civil service register and with strict accordance to civil service regulations, it was announced.

The jobs, mostly laborers and semi-skilled laborers, will last until June 30, 1960. Temporary increase in the work-load of the maintenance department is the reason for the hiring, a depot spokesman said.

Services Held For AP Newsmen

SHENANDOAH, Pa. (AP) — Funeral services were held Wednesday for Leonard A. Unger, head of the Associated Press bureau in Harrisburg and one of the state's best known newspapermen. Burial was in St. George's parish cemetery.

The 40-year-old Unger died Saturday after a heart attack. More than 300 residents of Shenandoah, Unger's hometown, and representatives of the press and the state government attended a

K's Welcome In Paris Is Friendly

PARIS — Parisian crowds have given Nikita Khrushchev a friendly welcome.

The degree to which various sections of Paris were decked out with Soviet and French flags, banners of welcome or protest, depended largely upon Communist influence in the area. The center of Paris showed a marked reserve for displaying the Communist flag except along avenues where Khrushchev was to pass. On the other hand, districts dominated by workers in the outlying areas of Paris were heavily decorated.

I first saw Khrushchev and the crowd's reactions at Quai d'Orsay where he is staying while in Paris. I stood in a sizeable gathering of onlookers along the Seine. There was a policeman every three or four yards along the avenues which Khrushchev was to travel.

As he left the Quai in an open car, hat in hand, waving at the crowds, spectator response was relatively warm but brief.

First Real

The following afternoon, at the Arch of Triumph and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Khrushchev received his first real welcome. A crowd estimated at 100,000 packed the Champs-Elysee, spreading out around the huge circle at the center of which is the Arch of Triumph.

Communist party members had been ordered to turn out in full strength. The bourgeois peace of the Champs-Elysee was troubled with hordes of Parisien workers carrying the USSR flag and shouting "Khrushchev!"

As the procession started up the Champs-Elysee, a group of spectators shouted "Budapest!" But this cheer soon was drowned out by cries of "Hurrah!" and "Khrushchev!"

The traffic circle around the Arch of Triumph is perhaps a quarter mile across. A ring of soldiers, two deep, completely encircled this area. Policemen seemed to be everywhere in the crowd.

Police agents were standing watch on rooftops around the circle.

In contrast to the spirit which dominated the Champs-Elysee crowds, spectators around the circle were almost completely silent. As Khrushchev arrived and departed there were a few cries, but most cheering came from the crowd at the head of the Champs-Elysee and relatively close to the ceremony. There is little doubt about it, the reception was a warm one, due perhaps for the most part to the vast support of Communist members in attendance.

Ordered To View

The following day the major gathering was at the Hotel de Ville. Again the Communist Party ordered its members out in full strength. Newspapers estimated the crowd to be between 15,000 and 20,000.

French newspapers seemed reluctant to admit and to write about this. Even the highly regarded and impartial afternoon paper "Le Monde" did not mention it.

During ceremonies in the Hotel de Ville, the crowd remained on the square before the hotel. Many times during this time the cry of "Khrushchev, go back home!" was raised.

On the whole, Khrushchev has been well received here. He has regained his smile which was faint and fatigued upon his arrival at Orly Airport. The rest of France now has its turn to meet and receive him.

War II Air Ace Critiques Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thomas G. Lanphier Jr. said yesterday that President Eisenhower "has led us incompetently to a point where we are in jeopardy of our national life."

Lanphier, a World War II flying ace quit a $60,000-a-year job with an aircraft company so he could be free to criticize the administration's defense policies.

In a speech to the National Press Club, Lanphier said Eisenhower has done this by not recognizing that we were in World War III. Hence, he has put budget balancing above all and, as a result, "business as usual" is the watchword in our land. And business is pretty good.

Lanphier, former vice president of the Convair Co., a key firm in the development of America's Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile, said it was "unfair of the side" to select former secretaries of defense Charles E. Wilson and Neil H. McElroy for the post.

He said "Wilson by his lack of recognition of the bursting power of science was a detriment to our defense effort," and McElroy was "simply lazy."

The Daily Investor

Do You Want Miracles

By William A. Doyle
Q. The company for which I work has a savings plan for its employees. Each employee is permitted to put up to 6 per cent of his earnings into the plan. For each dollar the employee puts in, the company puts in 50 cents.

The company employs a large bank to act as trustee for the savings plan and to invest the money in one of several plans. Each employee decides which plan his money will be invested in. I picked the diversified plan. The bank has put 58 per cent of the money in that plan in common stocks. Those stocks have climbed in value about $700,000. The rest of the money is in bonds, which have lost about $200,000 of their market value.

Does the bank deliberately play it safe with the bonds and, as a result, lose money? Does the bank pay its people so poorly that it gets only mediocre talent?

A. Mediocre? What do you want—miracles? The profit-sharing plan (that's evidently what it is) seems to be doing very well. No investment adviser picks only winners. This one's record is good.

Yes, the bank "plays it safe" by putting some of the money in bonds. Balancing the investment between stocks and bonds reduces some of the risk in the investment. However, bond prices fall from time to time. But it would be interesting to know how your particular plan has done over the past several weeks—while bond market prices have been rising.

From your letter, it's pretty clear that you could have picked some other plan—perhaps one in which your money would be invested in nothing but common stocks. But then you would probably complain every time stock prices tumble.

You were very smart to take full advantage of your company's plan. Anybody who has that kind of an opportunity should grab it. So, stop trying to play Monday morning quarterback to the plan's investment adviser.

Q. I have never been able to take time off and attend the annual stockholders' meeting of the company in which I own stock. I sign my proxy to vote on all matters coming before the meeting. I believe the company should send reports of what happens at the meeting to stockholders who do not attend. Am I right?

A. More and more companies are getting around to doing just that. It's not the worst idea in the world. It provides the stockholders with extra information. An informed stockholder is usually a happy stockholder.

However, most annual meetings are routine affairs. Many times there's nothing to report that the stockholders didn't know beforehand.

And there's expense involved. When a company spends money, it spends the stockholders' money. As the owners of the company, the stockholders should want to see the company operated as economically as possible.

Q. I bought a $500 U.S. Treasury 2½ percent bond in 1947. I never cashed any of the interest coupons on the bond. Can I cash the coupons now? The bond will mature in 1962.

A. Yes, you can cash the coupons now. And do it now. By not cashing the coupons, you have postponed the collection of interest due to you.

Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.

DOUGLAS FIR PLYWOOD is an engineered panel material made from a number of thin sheets of wood (veneers). Select DOUGLAS fir logs are peeled on giant lathes into veneers of uniform thickness. An odd number of veneers, three, five, seven or nine are then securely bonded together with the grain of one veneer placed at right angles to the one adjacent. Because wood is strong along the grain, this cross laminated construction distributes the strength of wood in both directions. Pound for pound, plywood is one of the strongest materials known... even stronger than steel.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Not machines but nature almost fouled me up yesterday. It was so foggy on Bangor Mountain that the sides of the road disappeared completely and we were left suspended, traveling a narrow track on the white line in the middle. Where the white line disappeared, we drove an invisible tight-rope.

But we made it, which is more than you can say about some of the Bangor guests who had been invited to the Family Living Tea at the high school. The youngsters were disappointed, but the people who didn't go should be more so because it's always as refreshing as spring to share in their activities.

They were so earnest about their projects in family living. If they put into practice only a quarter of what they have learned they'll be better wives and mothers than you and I, my dear stay-at-homes.

And I was pleased to note among high school fashions that the Clydesdale look is at last on the scene. That's the combination of long skirts and bulky sweaters that for years have given the girls the look of draft horses with huge fetlocks.

And I enjoyed a new type of fortune cookie. Not the hollow rice ones we usually find but real cookies with the rolled fortunes punched down into the middle sort of like a walnut decoration. My fortune predicted: "You will shortly receive by mail a proposition to your advantage."

I'll bet I know the offer of a horse and buggy in response to yesterday's tirade against the machine age. But I'll have you know I have lots of company also baffled by machines—and, surprisingly, more among the men than among the women.

Recital Saturday

The public is invited to attend the recital to be held Saturday night at 7:30 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Craigs Meadow.

The Baby's Named!

THE DAILY RECORD congratulates the parents and introduces to its readers the following new babies:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Reaser, of Hull, Mass., formerly of Snyder'sville, announce the birth of a son, Larry Allen, on March 10 at a navy hospital in Massachusetts. He weighed seven pounds ten ounces.

They have a daughter, Barbara Jean.

Mrs. Reaser is the former Christine Correll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Correll, Florida. Mr. Reaser is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Reaser of Snyder'sville.

Mr. and Mrs. Correll have been staying with their daughter while Robert is at sea. He is now somewhere near Cuba and will not be home until sometime in May. This is the first grandson for the Corrells who have three grandchildren.

Larry is the sixth grandchild for the Reasers making three boys and three girls.

Mrs. Reaser's present address is PO Box 355, Hull, Mass.

Richard Paul Venne

Their second son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Venne of East Stroudsburg RD 3 on March 28 at the General Hospital. He weighed seven pounds 14 ounces and has been named Richard Paul. His brother, Joseph, is three years old.

Mrs. Venne is the former Geraldine T. Tompkins, daughter of George Tompkins of Lake Park, Pa. N. J. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Lillian M. Venne of 300 North Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

Edward Michael Kaczka

A son, Edward Michael, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kaczka of Forks Inn, Cresco, on March 27 at the General Hospital. He weighed eight pounds one ounce. They have two daughters, Julie Ann, 6 and Kathy Ann, 2½.

Health Careers, Legislation On Medical Aux. Agenda

Mrs. Claude Leister was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Woman's Aux. to the Monroe County Medical Society at their meeting at the General Hospital. Speaking on "The Status of Women Past and Present", Mrs. Leister reviewed the accomplishments of Miss Susan B. Anthony who without wealth, influential family or prominent marriage advanced the cause of civil rights for women.

During the business meeting Mrs. Horace G. Butler reported on the status of the Forand Bill HR 4700 and what had been done in the county to acquaint the public with provisions of the bill.

Mrs. Butler who is legislative key woman for Monroe County, urged those opposed to Federal Medical Care to write to Representative Francis E. Walter asking him to vote negatively on the Forand Bill.

"Political medicine does not and will not improve medical care for the aged," she said. She urged the postponement of any medical legislation until the Presidential Conference on the Aged to be held in January 1961 when a complete picture of the problems of the aged will be available.

Mrs. Sherwood Samet announced final plans for Health Career Day to be held at the General Hospital on Sunday at 1:15 to which high school students, both boys and girls, interested in any of the allied medical careers have been invited.

A report of the 14th Conference of the Woman's Aux. to the Pennsylvania Medical Society in Harrisburg was given by Mrs. Butler. Mrs. Walter H. Caulfield, East Stroudsburg, state president-elect, presided at the conference. The theme was "Defining and Combining Our Auxiliary Efforts" and featured panels, discussion groups, workshops and exhibits.

Casual Clothes Star In Y Fashion Show, Card Party

The fashion show highlighted the card party sponsored by the YMCA Auxiliary for the benefit of its youth activities funds held on Tuesday night at the YMCA gymnasium with about 100 present.

Mrs. Harry Newkirk, who has had experience as fashion commentator in other sections, narrated her first show in the Stroudsburgs. The fashions, presented by Herb's His and Her Shoppe, featured prominently casual clothes designed especially for summer living in the Poconos.

There were a few Easter ensembles, notably a matching suit and chesterfield of grey herringbone wool, but primarily the collection starred shirtwaist dresses, separates and sportswear.

The men were not forgotten in this show with Irving Sommers and Harry Newkirk wearing new trends for men: A smoke green wool in Ivy league style with narrow lapels, flap pockets; a cotton corduroy suit with a reversible vest, showing paisley on one side to match the paisley lining, and a reversible sports jacket, the new plaids as well as white jackets for more formal wear.

Bone, gold, orange, and the shades of green and beige were marked in the collection of dresses and separates mixed with summer pastels. Prints included batik-type, madras plaids, harlequin and abstract prints, play suits, Bermudas and slacks with matching or contrasting shirts were also shown.

The hair styles, designed by Matthew and Nicholas, featured various versions of the chemise cut as well as this year's French twist, and the new bias cuts.

Accessories and background material were from Holiday House.

In addition to the fashion show, the party featured cards with a prize for each table, refreshments of sandwiches and coffee, and a white elephant table.

In addition to the men, models included Sharon Nicholas, Kay Mullins, Natalie Eschenbach, Mary Herdman, Catherine Kays, Lea Katz, Joan Sommers, Mildred Shaw.

Problems Of Faith, Morality Are Discussed

Among the problems which have been bothering members of the Adult Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Craigs Meadow, are evolution, the end of the world, and moral implications of rocket and atom bomb testing.

They were discussed at the meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bates recently. At the business meeting, the class set the last Saturday night of each month as their regular meeting date, and

Music Parents Prepare For Busy Spring

The three coming concerts, and the proposed chorus trip had a high place on the agenda of the Music Parents Organization of Stroud Union High School at their meeting this week.

The meeting followed a covered dish supper for parents and students in the school auditorium attended by about 100 persons. Robert Haigh presided.

The Music Parents approved paying transportation costs for the proposed chorus bus trip in May during which the chorus will present three concerts.

Mrs. Robert Williams announced plans for tag day to be held April 8 and 9 with the proceeds going specifically for the band needs. Serving with Mrs. Williams on the committee will be Mrs. Florence LaBar, Mrs. George Keenhold, Mrs. Virginia Kirkhuff and John Pyle.

Dates for coming concerts were announced with April 22 for the chorus concert; May 6, Band Concert; and May 20 the music festival featuring music students from the entire district.

Special prizes are available for season tickets good for admission to all three concerts, it was announced. The tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Elton Denning or Mrs. William Wyckoff.

$1000 Already Paid
During the meeting, it was announced that the Music Parents so far this year had paid $1,000 toward the music department of the school in the form of gifts, instruments, uniforms, music, and transportation. All of this fund had been raised by the members and was not from tax funds.

Mrs. Elton Denning was named chairman of the nominating committee which includes Mrs. Hugh Altomero, Mrs. William Wyckoff and Mrs. Wallace Adams. Harold Hosier was named chairman of the publicity committee.

Mrs. Hugh Altomero and Mrs. Virginia Kirkhuff were co-chairmen of the supper committee. A number of dishes left by guests may be secured by their owners from Mrs. Kirkhuff, HA 1-4772.

Class In Family Living Entertains At School Tea

Bangor — Japanese lanterns, parasols and a curtain of colorful banners marked with oriental symbols formed the background for the tea given by the Family Living class of senior girls at Bangor High School yesterday afternoon.

Hostesses in Japanese kimono greeted the guests representing parents, faculty, ministers, the press and other community groups. They had been invited through hand-decorated invitations bearing oriental symbols.

The reason for the Japanese motif became clear in the program presented by Marion Werner, when, after each sectional report, Sue Pysner explained how differently the women in Japan prepared for family living.

The Bangor course, now in its fifth year, is required of all senior girls and is part of the health education curriculum. As the students explained, it is divided into sections with committees in charge, with field trips, outside reading and speakers, and scrap books among the activities.

Preparation for marriage deals with such subjects as boy and girl relationships, going steady, courtship, dress, manners, grooming, and personality adjustments.

The section on child care includes human reproduction, diet, child behavior, and other factors including bathing the baby, presented by physicians, psychologists and visiting nurses.

The family relationship group is a wide one during the course of which the girls studied the proper relationship between different members of the family, sex education, family financing from budgeting to buying a home, and an insurance plan, to interior decorating and color harmony.

During the course, the class visited furniture stores and colonial homes, banks and other community services.

Concrete evidence of their studies were presented in scrap books and in scale model floor plans of homes they'd like to have.

Sue Pysner who presented the contrasting view of family living in Japan, stressed the fact that although the country was being modernized the women still held a subservient position in the household. However, they are trained from childhood in child care and in ministering to the comfort of their families, without personal ambitions or any voice in household management.

The costumes worn by the girls were provided by Sue whose brother is married to a girl from Japan.

Tea and fortune cookies were served. Miss Mary Louise Hanlin was in charge.

Officers' Wives Donated Tables To Co. Home

Three members of the Tobyhanna Signal Depot Officers' Wives Club paid a visit to the Monroe County Home yesterday. They brought with them two portable work tables, which they donated to the home on behalf of the club. Making the trip were: Mrs. Kale, wife of the commanding officer, Mrs. Shenk, and Mrs. Parry.

Cheese Adds Variety To Lenten Dish

By Alice Donhoff
Solve Lenten meal problems with novel touches and pleasant surprises, and don't forget good nutrition, and plenty of it! A quickie cheese sauce helps to pep up many a meatless dish as, for instance, the follow-up pasta dish.

Pasta Dish
To serve 4-6, prepare eight egg noodles (about 4 c.) according to pkg. directions.

Meanwhile, simmer 2 2/3 c. (large can) evaporated milk with 1/2 tsp. salt, in saucepan over low heat to just below boiling (2 min.).

Add 2 c. grated process-type American cheese, stir over low heat until cheese melts.

Break into pieces the contents of one 7-oz. can drained tuna. Add tuna and 1/4 c. chutney to cheese sauce; heat to serving temperature; stirring occasionally.

Add Saffron
Add 1/4 tsp. saffron to noodles, mixing well.

Serve noodles with tuna-cheese mixture.

Cheese sauce also goes well with a delicious fritter special. To serve 6, blend in a bowl 2 c. all-purpose biscuit mix, tsp. seasoned salt, 1 egg, 2/3 c. (small can) evaporated milk and 2 tbsp. lemon juice.

Add 1 1/2 c. diced mushrooms, 2 tsp. parsley, 1/4 c. finely chopped canned pimientos and 1/2 c. chopped scallions.

Fry In Hot Fat

Blend well. Drop from teaspoon into deep hot fat, 375 degrees F., or into 1/2 in. hot fat in frying pan.

Fry 1 1/2 to 2 min. Turn and fry on other side.

Drain on absorbent paper.

Serve with evaporated milk-cheese sauce given above.

Serve the same sauce with Salmon Fritters, made as follows:

To serve 6, blend in bowl 2 c. all-purpose biscuit mix, tsp. seasoned salt, 1 egg, 2/3 c. (small can) evaporated milk, and 2 tbsp. lemon juice.

Drain Salmon

Drain 1 (1 lb.) can salmon and add with 2 tbsp. finely-chopped onion, 1/4 c. finely-chopped canned pimientos and 1/2 c. chopped celery; blend well.

Drop from teaspoon into deep hot fat or into 1/2 in. hot fat in frying pan.

Fry 1 1/2 to 2 min. Turn and fry on other side.

Drain on absorbent paper.

FINE SURPRISE

Bake a loaf of date-nut or banana quick bread to send along, filled with cream cheese, as a "second" sandwich in your youngster's or husband's lunch-box.

Famed Gruyeres cheeses are produced in Gruyeres, Switzerland. It is a medieval town which has been preserved with castle and an enchanting market place.

Kindergarten Values Are Emphasized

Bushkill—The new kindergarten program in the East Stroudsburg Area Jointure, especially as it affects the Bushkill and Middle Smithfield area was explained at a meeting of both Parent-Teachers Assns. at the Bushkill School.

Mrs. Pauline Peterson, assistant to the supervising principal in charge of elementary education, explained the purposes and aims of the kindergarten and answered the questions from the floor.

The Children's Chorus of the Middle Smithfield School under the direction of Miss Cramer sang a medley of Irish songs they had prepared for St. Patrick's Day.

Herbert Martin presided at the Bushkill PTA unit meeting when they voted $6 to provide prizes and candy for the Easter Egg Hunt. Mrs. Ralph Turn Jr. reported on plans for the spaghetti supper to be served April 2 at the Bushkill School.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Palmer's first grade. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Catherine Keiper, Mrs. Evelyn Stettler, Mrs. Frances Schoonover and Mrs. Florence Van Why.

Auction Sale Set By Cherry Valley WSCS

Cherry Valley—Plans for the auction sponsored by the Cherry Valley Women's Society of Christian Service were discussed at the meeting held at the church this month. The auction will be held April 9 at 7 p.m. at the Enos Siproth Home with Joe Starnes as auctioneer.

Anyone having articles to donate for the sale is asked to call Helen Poortstra, Ruth Heller or Ruth Siproth before April 4.

The meeting followed a pot luck supper with Ann Dennis and Arlene Wolff as hostesses. Ruth Siproth presided at the meeting when world banks were opened in a ceremony presided by Ruth Heller and Gertrude Nunn.

Agnes Gunn, Gladys Stout and Gertrude Nunn were named to the nominating committee.

For The Youngsters

Easy-Build Sailing Scooter

YOUNGSTERS who like to sail become completely fascinated with this fast sailing scooter. The dagger centerboard provides great stability and increases maneuverability. This craft requires and helps develop real seamanship. Completely swamp-proof, it can be turned right side up even when the skipper goes overboard.

While designed primarily for youngsters, adults as well rent these scooters by the hour whenever they are made available. This opens up new business opportunities for those seeking income from part time work. The pattern offered below simplifies building this sail scooter. No previous boat building experience or special skill with tools are required. The cost of all materials specified on the pattern is a fraction of the price paid for a scooter purchased readymade.

Send $1.50 in cash or money order for Sail Scooter Pattern No. 248 to The Daily Record, P.O. Box 215, Pleasantville, N.Y. Send additional 35c for 64 page catalog illustrating over 300 other build it yourself projects. If you wish first-class mail send 25c extra.

Correct Peeling Paint

AN unpopular sight which often greets home handymen in the spring is peeling paint on window frames, siding, or shutters. SpeedWay home craftsmen warn not to pile new paint over such rough, peeling spots until you have removed the old paint.

Your refinishing job will last much longer, they point out, if you first smooth the area with your portable electric sander, wipe the surface clean, then apply the new coats of paint. Power sanding blends the peeled surface with surrounding sections that still retain their solid paint coat.

It's an accumulation of two or more paint jobs improperly applied that usually causes the surface to ripple, chip, and peel, and the problem is only compounded if rough areas aren't smoothed.

Screen Interest

NEW aluminum screening is available in four decorator colors—green, gold, charcoal and "bright," to match or contrast with the colors of shutters, doors, window frames, curtains and draperies.

Wood Cut Terms Are Explained

SOMETIMES even the most efficient home craftsmen are perplexed by project plans and manufacturers' directions because workshop nomenclature may be difficult to understand.

For instance, when directions require a rabbit cut, they are not referring to a hare, and plumb does not mean a succulent kind of fruit.

The homemaker experts have provided definitions for a few of the more common workshop terms:

Rabbit—A groove cut out of the edge or face of a board to receive another board or panel.

Plumb—This usually refers to making materials or objects, such as posts, cabinets, etc., perpendicular to the floor or other horizontal plane.

Miter—A diagonal cut commonly made across a board to form square corners, such as in picture-frame making.

Bevel—An angular cut made along the edge or end of a board.

Gain—A notch or recessed area made in doorway molding to insert a hinge or latch.

Tenon—A projecting piece of wood left by cutting away the wood around it; used for making tight joints by inserting the tenon in a mortise or groove in another piece of wood.

Pocket Cut—A sawed area within the edges of a board or panel.

Grooving—A narrow cut with the grain of the wood.

Toe-nail—To anchor one board to another by driving nails from one into another on an angle because there is no direct approach.

Sander Not To Be Used In Wrong Way

A PORTABLE electric sander is not a new workshop tool, but it often is the least understood. It can be one of the most valuable items in the home or farm shop when used properly.

For instance, many do-it-yourselfers start and stop their power sander on the wood they are working. This never should be done, say home-tool specialists, because stopping and starting in this manner will leave marks on the work that are hard to eradicate.

Some other sanding "don'ts" supplied by experts follow:
Don't skip more than two grit sizes when sanding wood. If you do, you're likely to wind up with swirl marks that require additional attention.

Don't use too much pressure on the power sander or you may scar the wood. It's easy to determine the proper pressure. First approach the work with just enough pressure to control the sander, then adjust your grip accordingly until you achieve a uniform finish.

Don't use flint paper or emery cloth with a portable electric sander, because they are too soft to withstand pressure without splitting. Garnet should be used for wood sanding only. Aluminum oxide and silicon carbide abrasives can be used for almost any material.

Parade of Homes

Small Home Shown Here Is Budget-Buyer's Dream

TO THOSE who feel the architect has abandoned the small home field, examine the dimensions of this design as well as its host of appealing features.

It has all the qualifications of a starter home or one for retirement, and was created to provide the budget buyer with something more than the wastefully planned and characterless box he's been stuck with for years.

Young in spirit, this home will command the love of all who are at ease with today's mode of living. The interior has an open friendliness that promises years of good living for its occupants.

As for the exterior, the lines are graceful and flowing. Its broad surfaces and clean lines will blend well with new homes or add sparkle to older neighborhoods without looking out of place.

Planning that anticipates and meets your everyday problems characterizes the interior. It has two bedrooms—neither large enough for a ballroom dance but both admirably equipped to fulfill their roles of being bedrooms.

There's plenty of uninterrupted wall space for easy furniture arrangement, two ventilating windows per room and ample closet space.

The kitchen could just as easily belong to a home costing much more... and why not? It contains almost 200 sq. ft. of living space. There's plenty of room for a dining nook and there's a perfect place for it by two windows.

To keep the kitchen open—a feature certain to win the applause of you homemakers—an island cooking surface unit and snack bar was established. Working surfaces and storage are concentrated near the sink, another feature that wins approval from step-conscious homemakers.

The real key to the home's livability is to be found in the living room. With an abundance of window area, this room is as bright and cheery as a Christmas greeting.

And for those long winter evenings, what can add more warmth to a room than an open fire in a fireplace. Completely of lodgecraft, the fireplace serving this area stretches from floor to ceiling and is certain to produce nostalgic memories by all who sit before it.

In the absence of a basement, additional storage facilities have been arranged along the wall of the adjoining carport.

To sum it up, this home has everything bigger homes have — except your life savings.

This plan conforms to general FHA, VA and Building Code requirements. Electrical layout is indicated on the blue print.

Due to the variation in material and labor costs, the estimated construction cost is not given. However, this plan contains 925 sq. ft. and 10-175 cu. ft. The carport contains 350 sq. ft. Your builder or material supplier can give you the average cost per square or cubic foot in your area.

Complete Building Plans, including Detail Sheet, Material List and Specification Guide for design No. H-522 may be purchased for $9.75 for 1st set; 2 for $18.75; 3 for $26.25; or 4 for $33.75. You may also purchase The Daily Record Plan Book showing 71 designs for 75c postpaid. Address all questions and orders to Home-Ograf Home Plan Dept., The Daily Record, Warren, Michigan.

Mildew On Painted Surfaces Removed With Treatment

MILDEW was especially severe last summer and fall in many areas of the country, and authorities on the subject believe that a similar, or even heavier, attack may occur this summer.

This mold, which manifests itself in soiled or dirty-dark patches on painted and other surfaces, is easy to remove. The important thing to bear in mind is that merely painting over the old surface with regular paint will not cure the situation.

The mold will grow again on the new paint, unless it is a mildew-proof paint. Spores are usually present in the air, everywhere, all of the time, and they can be expected to grow on any unprotected organic material if the atmosphere is warm and humid.

Mildew, or mold, may be killed by using a number of household chemicals, which are available in nearly all grocery and hardware stores. One of the easiest methods is to wash the mold-infested surface with one of the products that is a sodium hypochlorite solution. The proper mixture is 1½ cups of the full-strength bleach to a gallon of water.

The solution is brushed or sprayed on the infested surface and allowed to stand for about five minutes. If the stain does not bleach, the discoloration may have been dirt, but the washing will not have harmed the surface.

After the treatment, the surface should be rinsed with clean, fresh water and be allowed to dry completely before repainting. Where the mold growth is heavy, it may be necessary to scrub the surface with a bristle brush.

Knowing Termites
Do you know how to tell a termite from an ant? The difference is at the waistline. The winged ant has a pinched-in waistline but termites have thick waists. The rear wings of an ant are considerably smaller than the front wings. There is little difference in the wings of a termite.

Discourteous Student No. One Annoyance Of Teeners' Teachers

EDITOR'S NOTE — Teachers, instead of high school students, were the targets for this week's survey, and the next two also. You will want to read every word what they say about their pupils.

By Eugene Gilbert
President, Gilbert Youth
Research Co.

THE THING that bothers teachers most about their teen-age students is lack of respect and courtesy.

They have other gripes, but this is the top one.

We learned this when we asked 806 school teachers for a frank appraisal of the current crop of teen-agers. They were quite frank, but hardly unanimous.

Half say today's teen-agers are as well behaved as ever. Half say they are not. Two-thirds say the youngsters are as happy as ever. One-third say they are not.

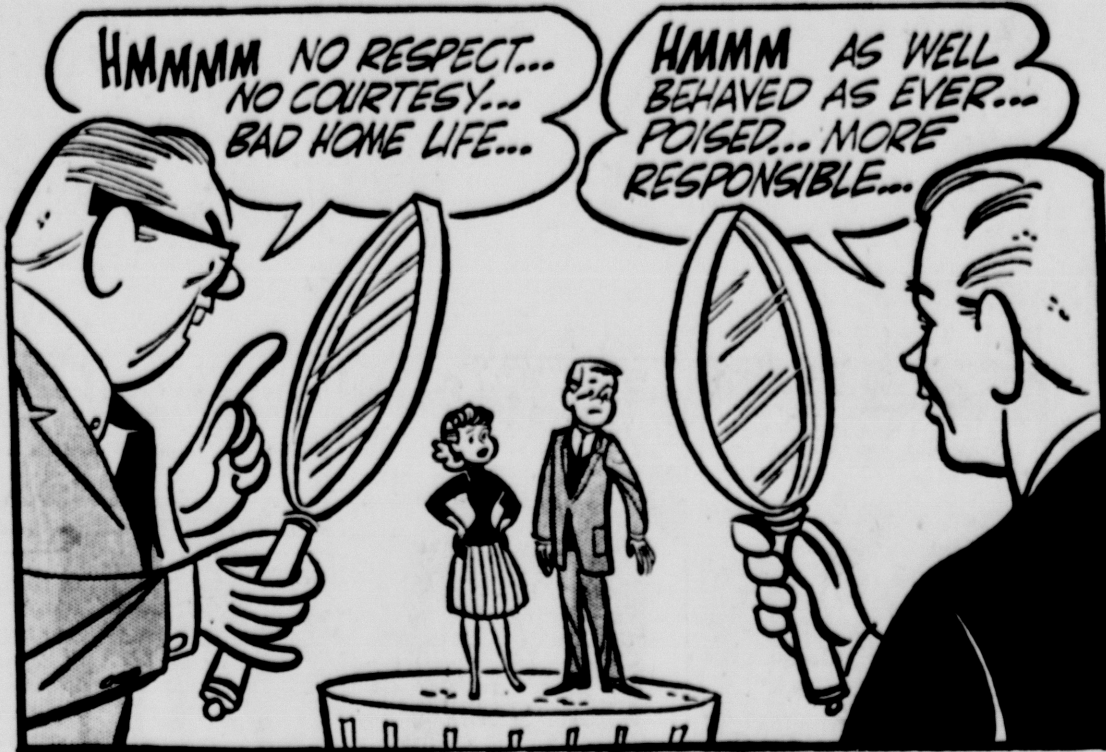

When it comes to deciding why the young people are misbehaved or unhappy, most teachers blame the home.

In surveying teachers — the adults in the best position to judge teen-agers—we reversed our usual procedure of analyzing teen-age opinions. Instead, we went after opinions about teen-agers.

We were careful to get a good cross-section of teachers. This is how they look, categorically:

Most, 48 per cent, teach in big city schools while 31 per cent teach in small city schools, 13 per cent in small towns and 8 per cent in consolidated schools. Forty-three per cent teach in schools with more than 1,500 students, 29 per cent where there are 1,000 to 1,500 there are 500 to 1,000 students, 26 per cent where less than 500 students.

Thirty-seven per cent of our teachers have taught for more than 15 years, 10 per cent for 10 to 15 years, 26 per cent from 5 to 10 years and 27 per cent less than 5 years. Fifty-one per cent are parents; 49 per cent are not.

In appraising the behavior of the teen-agers, surprisingly enough the teachers thought much alike whatever the length of their service or the size of their school.

"Students are more outspoken due to the change in society," says Ralph W. Hutchins of Knoxville, Tenn. "but if they are expected to be quiet they are quiet."

Geraldine Dykhuizen of Grand Haven, Mich., says: "The high school students of today are more poised, more responsible, and more independent. Our school has much less trouble with the childish, irresponsible behavior of past years."

Sarah R. Davey of Pittsburgh feels teen-agers are well behaved but "because there is more freedom today misbehavior is more open, and therefore we feel there is more of it."

Those who believe misbehavior has increased, explain it this way: "There are more outlets for young people today and they encourage misbehavior," says Clarence L. Gurian of Green Bay, Wis.

"Too many children are being raised by child psychology books, thus creating lax discipline," says Gene Rubinstein of Pennsauken, N. J.

And Rita Goldschmidt of Grand Rapids, Mich., says "they aren't taught manners as they used to be."

In trying to put their finger on the cause of misbehavior, this group most often blames the home—discipline at home is lax, children are not taught proper behavior, they have too many outside interests, many of their mothers work. Many teachers blame misbehavior simply on the times.

In answer to the question, "Are high school students as happy as they once were?" 63 per cent of the teachers said yes and 33 per cent said no. Here again, the same percentages apply in all categories of teachers.

In attempting to explain why they think youngsters are not as happy as those of other generations, the minority group gives these reasons: too much social activity, too many demands on their time, too much desire for material possessions, unhappy homes, and too much pressure to make good grades.

"They have too little time for contemplation," says Marion L. Musante of Brooklyn, N. Y. Royal G. Bamel, of Missoula, Mont., believes, "Too many teachers and parents expect the young people to accomplish all that the parents and teachers were unable to accomplish."

"Most students have very little initiative," says J. Robert Pease of Peekskill, N. Y. "As a result they are bored when activities aren't provided for them."

What Annoys Most

Students have managed to annoy their teachers ever since the ancients decided that young people must be taught. Only the annoyances have differed.

Some of those of today are: "Lack of respect for others," says Wilbur Bull of Burlington, Vt. "Most (teen-agers) are out for all they can get at anyone's expense."

"They mature too early and wish to marry too young," says Mrs. Robert Meffley of Maumee, Ohio.

Eleanor Barnes of Knoxville, Tenn., is annoyed by "indifference in regard to cheating. The problem seems to be growing, and is one which is condoned by many students."

"Lack of curiosity, compulsion for security," says Mary Benedict of Indianapolis. "They'd rather be told than inquire."

"Many students do not study to learn," says Carolyn Sink of Bethel Park, Pa. "They may

After lack of respect and courtesy, the things which annoy teachers most include: carelessness, cheating, day-dreaming, gum-chewing, poor grammar and incessant talking.

Blames Foreign Labor For Loss

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Park Sherman Co. blames lower foreign labor costs for forcing it out of business as the last U.S. maker of a $1 retail cigarette lighter.

Lower labor costs of domestic competitors, an official said, hurt the firm in its field as the largest maker of metal stationery gift items in the nation. At its peak Park Sherman employed 350 persons.

The firm's annual production grew after the war from less than a million dollars to about three millions.

"Until 1952, it was a pretty profitable operation," one officer said.

Competition toughened as costs rose. Automation absorbed some of increasing overhead. Finally, liquidation was decided upon.

World Court Request Shunned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee laid aside indefinitely yesterday the controversy over the jurisdiction of the World Court.

It voted 9-7 to postpone action on President Eisenhower's request for repeal of a U.S. veto over the jurisdiction of the court in cases in which the U.S. claims domestic jurisdiction.

Eisenhower had asked for repeal with the argument the situation encouraged other countries to reject the court's jurisdiction.

Club Formed In Pike, South Wayne

NEWFOUNDLAND — A brand new club, the only one of its kind in Southern Wayne and Pike Counties, has been organized here.

It is the 4-H Horse and Pony Club, and its officers, selected at the organizational meeting held at the legion home this week, include Mike Campbell, Greentown, president; Mike Smith, Greentown, vice president; Diane Smith, Greentown, secretary-treasurer; Donna Stevens, Newfoundland, song-leader; Dale Stevens, Newfoundland, game-leader; and Jim Carlton, Canadensis, news reporter.

Adult leader for the group is Ted Ash, owner of Ash Timberport, in Angels.

Larry A. Lindstrom, extension representative, talked to the group this week on 4-H activities and handed out 4-H project books to the members. There were 12 members and five parents on hand for the organizational session.

Plans presently call for two meetings a month. Membership is open to boys and girls ten years of age to 21, who either own or have access to a horse or pony. Members will take complete care of the animal, and part of the activity of the club will be to learn how to groom and care for a horse or pony.

The next meeting of the club will be held on April 11 at 8 p.m. at Ash Timberport.

Mount Pocono

Mrs. John Sutton
TE 9-9429

THE pot luck dinner to be held at the fire hall, for members of the Women's Auxiliary of the fire company and their families Saturday night, will start at 6:30. The committee is composed of Mrs. Louis Zepel, Mrs. William Saganich, Mrs. Bernard Pallo, Mrs. William Wright, Mrs. Alvin MacWilliams, Mrs. Elizabeth Nature and Mrs. Richard DeHaven.

The Holy Name Society of St. Mary of the Mount Catholic Church, will meet in the church auditorium Friday at 8 p.m. George Riez will conduct the meeting.

Borough Council will meet at the fire hall Monday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Andrew McGlinchey attended the funeral of her aunt, in Scranton.

Spec. 4 and Mrs. Richard Mushroe spent a few days visiting Mrs. Mushroe's parents at Lamhurst, Mass.

Good Friday Services At M'Home

MOUNTAINHOME—Good Friday services, based upon the "Seven Last Words" will be held continuously from 12 noon until 3 p.m. at the Methodist Church with brief intermissions every twenty minutes.

Those attending may stay for as many of the twenty-minute periods as they wish.

Speaking on the first "Word" will be the Rev. Charles Eichman, of the Canadensis Moravian Church; the second, the Rev. James F. Mort, Mt. Pocono Methodist; third, the Rev. Gerald H. Miller, Tannersville Methodist; fourth, the Rev. Arthur B. Campney, South Sterling Methodist; fifth, the Rev. John D. O'Neill, Canadensis Methodist; sixth, the Rev. John S. Carter, Mountainhome Methodist; seventh, Captain Francis Patterson, chaplain of the Tohoyanna Signal Depot.

Beaver Jailed On Assault Charge

FRED BEAVER, 56, of 71 Hallett St., East Stroudsburg was committed to Monroe County Jail yesterday by Chief Deputy Sheriff Claude Mader. Beaver was arrested on a bench warrant charging assault.

Solon Charges Erroneous Statistics Issued On Mail

Special To Record

BLASTING what he termed a "mass of erroneous statistics regarding postal rates and deficits," Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) said Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield has failed to eliminate waste and speed mail to the public.

The charge came in a statement to the Daily Record yesterday.

Porter said the deficit of $6.8 billion in the period 1946-1959 as listed by the Eisenhower Administration gives a false picture of the department.

What that picture failed to show, Porter said, was that "a large portion of this so-called deficit consisted of legitimate expenditures for worthwhile functions of the government."

"During the period 1946-1953, for instance, the Post Office was charged $40 million annually for frank and penalty mail, and $70 million annually for the federal airmail subsidy," Porter said, while actually "these charges were transferred from the Post Office to other agencies of the government in 1953, yet the administration would have the American people believe that the users of the mail caused the deficits during the years 1946 through 1953."

Items Listed

Porter's statement reads further by saying Congress had adopted a policy two years ago for the Post Office requiring separation from the deficit of such items. The items listed are free mail for the blind, low rates for books and other educational material, mainly non-postal services such as the registration of aliens, etc., and are estimated by Porter at $3,200,000,000 which, he said, could be deducted from the "Administration's phony deficit figure of $6.8 billion."

Porter charged that the enactment of the proposed program of rate increases at this time would only add to the inflationary spiral and "impose an unjustifiable burden on many mail users."

Trees Important Around Home

By George Abraham
PLANTING SHADE TREES: I'm often asked which tree is the best to plant around the home for beauty and for comfort. It's hard to say, but everyone agrees that trees are important. In fact, with the exception of the house and related lawn, trees are probably the most important features in the home landscape picture. Recently, tree styles have changed with modern architecture. With the two-story house of a few years back, almost every house needed several large trees. The demand for small and medium-sized trees has increased with the popularity of one-story homes.

Big Mistake
 A big mistake is to plant a tree of questionable hardiness or "toughness" or to try and make a tree happy in poor dry soil. Here are a few trees which tolerate the worst conditions possible. Tree of Heaven (Ailanthus altissima); Catalpa; Cockspur Hawthorn (Crataegus crusgalli); Ginkgo (G. biloba); London Plane tree (Platanus acerifolia); American Plane tree (Platanus occidentalis); Black locust (Robinia pseudacacia); English elm (Ulmus procera). For small trees try Chionanthus virginicus and Devil's Walking Stick (Aralia spinosa). These trees will tolerate a city's worst gas fumes. To me, atmospheric contamination is about as difficult a condition to work against as there is. For good conditions you might consider the various maples. They grow quite rapidly, are adaptable to almost any soil condition although they prefer moist, rich soil. They are ideal specimens for street trees, and the sugar maple is hard to beat for fall coloration. As a lawn tree sugar maple is preferred because it is deeper rooted than the Norway and will not compete as quickly with grass roots. Crimson King, a form of Norway maple adds color to the landscape throughout the summer.

Next week: More about good shade trees. Don't miss it! PLASTIC BAGS: Here's this week's tip "or using Plastic bags: "If you love horse-radish but hate to make it," writes a reader, "try this tip: Your eyes and nose won't water if you place a plastic bag over the end of the grinder. Grind to your heart's content as the bag confines the fumes." Good tip! Please keep on sending me your tips on using plastic bags, for horticultural uses.

A GOOD ROSE SPRAY: Blackspot is a serious disease of roses, but it wouldn't be if your roses were treated soon enough, and with the right fungicide. Spray your canes and the base, as well as ground around, using either Zineb or Maneb. These materials are used at the rate of about 1 oz. to 4 gallons of water. I start just before the buds break and we give our roses a spraying once every 10 days. In rainy seasons once every week is needed to maintain good control. You can get good control of blackspot during the "average" season with either sulfur or Captan or a combination of the two, but I've had consistently better control with either Zineb or Maneb. After the spring cleanup, give your rose bushes a good covering and follow throughout the growing season, if you want to lick blackspot.

Question Box

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: D. F. of Stockertown: "I started my petunia seed indoors and had poor luck with it. Nothing came up from the $5.00 worth of seed I planted. The varieties were hybrids, Comanche (red) and Crusader (pink and white). What was wrong?"

I think perhaps it was the starting mixture you need. Petunia seed is extra fine and the starting mixture should be loose and humusy as well as sterile. Vermiculite or perlite can be used in place of soil which is often loaded with disease germs and too heavy for the fine seed. If you use soil mix sand and peat with it and sterilize it in the oven for one-half hour at 200 degs.

Scatter the seed on top, or sow in rows at rate of 100 seeds per foot of row. Do not cover petunia seed! It will germinate in a week if kept at room temperature. I do not water seed from top. Rather I place the seed flat (or "box") in a pan of water and allow soil to be soaked completely and automatically. A sheet of plastic is placed over the top to prevent drying. As soon as the seedlings start to germinate, the plastic sheet is removed and the box is placed in a sunny window.

Transplant seedlings when about 4 inch high. The younger plants are, when transplanted, the better they'll stand the shock and the less growth is checked. Transplant them into pots or peat pots so they can be set directly in the garden without suffering shock.

Hybrid petunia seed sounds expensive. A pound is worth as much as a $6,500 luxury car.

Champagne In France Tops-K

EPERNAY, France (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has finally found something that France does better—champagne-making. He admitted it yesterday.

Surrounded by thousands of bottles here in the heart of the champagne country, he said: "We make a wine in Russia and the fact that we call it champagne—well, that's homage to you."

After World War II, the Soviets announced they had discovered an electrical method of making champagne.

Soviet engineers in 40 minutes could manufacture champagne as good as the best French brand, said Moscow.

The electric champagne made a brief appearance in Moscow stores in 1946—and quickly disappeared. Wags said the taste was too shocking.

Khrushchev sipped a glass of French variety, smiled broadly and admitted it was "the best." "It's good," he added. "In fact it's very, very excellent."

Derailed Train Blocks Traffic

MYERSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Part of a Reading Railroad freight train went off the tracks here last night, blocking traffic on the Harrisburg - Allentown route for nearly 12 hours.

No one was injured when 11 cars of the eastbound 129-car train went off the track after a coupling broke on one of the cars. But the derailed cars side-swiped a feed mill causing damages. Reading officials estimated at $250,500.

All of the cars remained unbroken, but spectators were cleared from the area because four of the derailed cars contained a form of ammonia used for fertilizer.

The train was en route to Allentown with a load of coal and a mixed cargo. The mill is owned by George Bleistein, of Myerstown.

but fortunately you only need about a 50-cent packet for enough petunias for two or three average home gardens. There are about 200,000 seeds in an ounce, so that a small patch of hybrids are within the reach of most of us.

A. W. of Weisport: "We have a spot which is partly shady and would like to have some flowering plants. What would do well there? They're for a window box."

I mentioned a list of annuals and perennials for the shaded spot recently, but to this list I'd like to add balsam, forget-me-nots, pansy, Impatiens and cornflower.

Dracaena, while not a flowering plant, will tolerate some shade, and for vines you can grow the German Ivy and Vinca. Tuberous begonias and coleus will help to bring color. Don't expect too much color in the shade as it's not natural for most plants to bloom in the absence of light.

Collegiate Basketball Team

Hopewell Named To State Honorable Mention Squad

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Russ Hopewell, East Stroudsburg State College's sophomore scoring and rebounding whiz, has been named to the honorable mention squad of the 1960 Associated Press All-Pennsylvania collegiate basketball team.

The six-foot Hopewell scored 437 points in 20 games this year to rank 56th in national small college scoring with a 21.9 average. He also averaged 12 rebounds a game.

Dick Lloyd of Bloomsburg State, a second team All-State selection, was 42nd in the national scoring race with a 23.5 mark. Lloyd scored 399 points but his team played only 17 games.

Quarterbacks Named

Temple's Bill Kennedy, Mark DuMars of Penn State and Bobby McNeill of St. Joseph's, all basketball "quarterbacks" were voted to the first all-star five by sports writers and sportscasters throughout the state. St. Francis' Wilbur Trosch and Lafayette's Charlie Ross, a pair of tall rebounders, completed the first team.

Voted to the second team were Hubie White of Villanova, Westminister's Chuck Davis, Penn's Bob Miky, Dick Lloyd of Bloomsburg and Joe Aston of St. Francis.

Kennedy, a third team All-American, polled the most votes for his outstanding performance in leading an unheralded Temple team into the National Invitation Tournament. One of four seniors on the first team, he scored 576 points.

Off-Year Team

DuMars, a junior, averaged 21.3 points a game for an off-year Penn State team. He compiled a 38 per cent shooting mark from the field. His play brightened an 11-11 campaign for State.

McNeill was the star of a St. Joseph's team that won the Middle Atlantic Conference university division title and played in the NCAA regional tournament. He scored 450 points and handed out 135 assists, leading his team in both departments for the third straight year.

The 21-year-old Trosch is described by his coach, Skip Hughes, as a good pro prospect. Featuring a one hand jump shot, the 6-8 238-pound Clairton, Pa., had scored 450 points in 23 games. He used his size to good advantage off the boards.

Ross, also a top rebounder, totaled 1,137 points in his three years at Lafayette, third highest in the college's history. His 513 points last season was a second best in Lafayette basketball history.

First Team

Mark DuMars, Penn State, 5-11; Wilbur Trosch, St. Francis, 6-8; Bobby McNeill, St. Joseph's, 6-11; Charlie Ross, Lafayette, 6-4.

Second Team

Hubie White, Villanova, 6-7; Chuck Davis, Westminister, 6-6; Bob Miky, Penn, 6-6; Dick Lloyd, Bloomsburg, 6-7; Joe Aston, St. Francis, 6-7.

Third Team

Mike Kwak, Kings, 6-6; Norm Brandt, Lehigh, 6-6; Tom Piersall, Albright, 6-6; John Frazier, Pitt, 6-6; Ron Warner, Gettysburg, 6-6.

Honorable Mention

Ducky Potter, Maryland; Russ Hopewell, East Stroudsburg; George Brown, Duquesne; Bill Mauro, Pitt; Bill Soffa, Carnegie Tech; Paulie Peterson, St. Vincent; Bob Parker, Gettysburg; Jim Bishop, Millersville; Arlen Burkett, Kutztown; Tommy Thompson, Bucknell; George Moore, Susquehanna; Tom Yancey, Geneva; Jim Huggard, Villanova; Bob Alden, LaSalle; Joe Gallo, St. Joseph's; Bob Shohodnik, Duquesne; Mike Flynn, Carnegie Tech; Jim Johnston, Allegheny.

Giant's Cepeda Wants To Make Good In Left Field

By JACK STEVENSON
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Orlando Cepeda, the National League's rookie-of-the-year in 1958 as a first baseman, said Wednesday, "I want to do as good a job as possible in left field."

The story of Cepeda in left field began last July 30 when Willie McCovey, called up from Phoenix farm club, broke into the San Francisco lineup with two triples and two singles while playing first base.

Manager Bill Rigney had the problem of what to do with two slugging first basemen, Orlando, the more versatile, moved to third base. He wasn't a third baseman so the next switch was to left field.

McCovey went on to succeed Cepeda as the unanimous choice as rookie-of-the-year. He finished the season with a .354 average, including 13 homers in 52 games. Cepeda led the club in batting over the full season with .317 and 27 homers.

This spring Rigney stated flatly that Cepeda was the left fielder and would not practice at first base.

Orlando takes the changing of positions philosophically. When he held out for more money this spring, the change wasn't mentioned.

"I think I still like first base better," he says, "but I also wanted to be an outfielder. I have a chance now to be a good outfielder."

Louis Jackson of Lancaster, Pa., led the Eastern League in hitting last season with a .339 average.

Owens Quits Phillies But Only Briefly

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Pitcher Jim Owens, fined $500 for a barroom fracas, quit the Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday but later changed his mind deciding he would be foolish to toss away a promising career.

Angered when Phillies' owner Bob Carpenter levied the fine for an after-curfew fight with a busboy, Owens threatened to jump the team.

"I don't make that kind of money with the Phillies that I can afford a $500 fine," the 26-year-old right-hander asserted.

But after a one-hour conference with General Manager John Quinn, Owens decided he would remain with the team.

Owens won 12 and lost 12 last year in his first full season with the Phillies.

John Romano was the pinch hitter of the year for the Chicago White Sox in 1959. He pinch hit 16 times and got three walks and eight hits for an average of .615.

Louis Jackson of Lancaster, Pa., led the Eastern League in hitting last season with a .339 average.

TV Follows NBA Playoff

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's television fans probably will get a chance to watch all but one of the remaining games of the National Basketball Assn. championship playoffs between the Boston Celtics and St. Louis Hawks.

The teams are tied, 1-1, in the best-of-seven series. The third and fourth games will be played at St. Louis this Saturday and Sunday and telecast by NBC (2 p.m. EST).

NBA President Maurice Podoloff Wednesday set the fifth game for Boston, Tuesday night, April 5. This won't be telecast.

Podoloff said the sixth game, if needed, likely would be played in St. Louis, Saturday afternoon.

Classic League In Action Today

MONROE Classic League is in action tonight at Harmon's Recreation at 7.

Alleys 1 and 2—D. Katz and Sons vs. Square Bar.

Alleys 3 and 4—Eagles "A" vs. Al Besecker's Diner.

Alleys 5 and 6—Ballantine vs. Bill Altieri.

Detroit Tiger third baseman Eddie Yost never played minor league baseball. He broke into the big leagues in 1944 with Washington.

April 9, if a seventh game is necessary, it probably would be played Sunday, April 10 in Boston. The weekend games would be telecast.

Amateur Hoop Stars Begin Battles For Olympic Spots

DENVER (AP)—America's top-drawer amateur basketball aces begin the battle Thursday night for the dribble-and-shoot game's most coveted award — a berth on the U.S. Olympic team.

As usual, the 1960 Olympic Trials will shape up as a "go for broke" struggle between the nation's finest college stars and the cream of the AAU ranks. For good measure, the greatest players the armed forces have to offer are also competing.

Eight teams are poised for the fireworks. Each has an outstanding coach.

Dream Teams

Almost to the man, the coaches have sized up their respective collections of talent as the "kind of team a basketball coach lies awake nights dreaming about."

The teams square off like this in Thursday night's opening round: (times EST)

7:30—Akron vs. Armed Forces All-Stars.

9—Ohio State vs. NAIA All-Stars.

10:30 — Bartlesville, Okla., vs. NCAA University All-Stars.

12 midnight — Peoria vs. NCAA All-Stars.

greatest, the oddsmakers have established Peoria, national AAU champion, as the tourney favorite. Bartlesville and Akron are close behind.

The number of night games played in the National League rose from seven in 1935 to 298 in 1959.

Forrest C. (Phog) Allen's college basketball teams won 771 games during his 46 years of coaching.
